

Amos Stonehouse
AL-V-A-117

The Amos Stonehouse is located on Foundry Row, Mount Savage. The property on which this stone house is located was bought by William Amos in 1845. He probably built his house around the middle of the 19th century. An equity case in 1867 states that the property was "... improved by a two story stone house containing five or six rooms." This building originally consisted of a rectangular, two story, three bays wide structure. Wall construction is of random sandstone rubble with rough quoins laid at the corners.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Amos Stone House is located on Foundry Row in Mount Savage.

The building originally consisted of a rectangular, two story, three bays wide structure. A two story rectangular addition on the southeast makes an "L" shaped building. Walls of both the original and addition are of random sand-stone rubble with rough quoins on the corners. The building rests on a low stone foundation with a wide plain water table. The gable flank roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Eaves consist of a cornice and sloped soffit. Two brick chimneys on the original, located inside end, have been sheathed in cement. One interior brick chimney on the addition has a corbeled cap.

The main entrance in the center of the northwest facade includes a replaced nine light door. Windows are pegged, wide, one over one light sashes. Wooden lintels are located above southeastern facade windows of the original, and above doors and second story windows of the addition. A hipped porch roof on the northwest supported by stone posts has been added. A shed roofed brick addition abuts the stone addition on the southeast.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Amos Stonehouse is located on Foundry Row in Mount Savage. Mount Savage was settled either during or shortly after the Revolutionary War by the Archibald Arnold Family. (1) The area grew slowly until 1839 when the Mount Savage Iron Company was founded. (2) This business, along with the three subsidiary businesses that grew around it (railroading, coal mining and brick manufacturing), drew a large amount of people to Mount Savage to work and live. (3)

The property on which this stone house is located was bought by William Amos in 1845. (4) He probably built his house around the middle of the nineteenth century. An equity case in 1867 stated that the property was "... improved by a two story stonehouse containing five or six rooms." (5) Unlike the other George's Creek communities where stone was rarely used as building material, sandstone was often used in Mount Savage. By 1855 Mount Savage had several hundred houses for the operatives (of the ironworks), built principally of stone..."(6)

This building originally consisted of a rectangular, two story, three bays wide structure. Wall construction is of random sandstone rubble with rough quoins laid at the corners. An addition with the same wall treatment was added onto the southeast of the original. Some windows and doors of both portions of the building have wooden lentels.
